In 1544 Hob Elwald is listed in the Hamilton Papers as being the son to Clement Crozier's sister. Clementis is Clement's, and Clement's Hob means that Hob Elwald (Robert Elwald) is Clement Crozier of Stobs man.

To differentiate between the two Hob Elliot one is of Heughouse and the other is called Clementis Hob. The name Hob Elliot like today's Bob Elliott was quite common. Dad had a number of Bobs which they had to differentiate at Mt Ayr High School in Iowa.

In the bond of assurance the names of two Elliots appear among the Crosiers, namely, Hobbe, Clemet Crosier's sister's son, and William, John Crosier's sister's son, who went along with their maternal kinsfolk. But, with the exception of these two, the clan refused to engage themselves to England. As in Liddesdale, so in Teviotdale, only one of the principal surnames kept out of assurance, namely, the Scotts,<sup>7</sup> and thus the two clans naturally became associated in a common cause and joined their forces. On a former occasion the Elliots, when driven out of Liddesdale, had retired into Buccleuch's country and placed themselves under his lead. No other course was left open to them in the See State Papers, Henry VIII., v. 398, October 29, 1544; and Hamilton Papers, ii. 741-3, June 7, 1544. Though the first name is written as Hobbe Elwode, the second for the same individual is written as Hobbe Elliot. The writer of the second is an Elliot and could give it an Elliot bias or is recognizing that Elwode evolved into Elliot. The spelling appear quite different to me.

This would give a family tree something like this;

2. William, 5th laird of Horsleyhill, of whom hereafter.
3. Andrew (alias Dan) was, as we have seen, involved in the murder of Hugh Douglas in about 1547. On 1st July 1551 his father settled on him the lands of Baillillie, though reserving the life-rent to himself.<sup>1</sup> Andrew was dead by February 1563/64.

This shows strong use of the forenames Robert, Gavin, Andrew (Dand), and William.

Robert Elliot (Clementis Hob) would likely name his first son Robert after himself and his second son Andrew (Dan) after his father.

Andrew Elliot of Baillillie is the older brother of Gavin Elliot of Baillillie and Stobs, the stepfather to Gilbert Elliot of Stobs.

It can be seen above that Gavin of Baillillie and Stobs step-mother-in-law is a Hamilton.

By George Hill

The above shows a Robert Elliott (Ellot), a ballie (legal administrator) title; Balliletrie (like Baillillie), for the John Hamilton Estate of Armagh, in which he does not take a loyalty oath for the position.

After making his will the late Archbishop had died, and Gabriel Conynham had [previously] died, and Robert Weire and James Somervill survived ; and after Malcolm's death they entered into possession of his portion of Derrin-fogher, to the "opus et us'," in the will of the late Archbishop, limited. But he had not taken the oath of supremacy, and therefore the present King Charles was seized as in fee of his whole proportion in right of his Crown of Ireland.

On the 13 March, 1615, the Archbishop had granted to James Somervill and Elizabeth, his wife, the parcels of land called Tullacalter (Tullykelter) and Tullenmlinora, Dromscobbe and Carrinmore. Elizabeth Somerville was a Hamilton, supposed to have been a daughter of Thomas Hamilton, of Brimhill. A daughter of theirs married, as before stated, Captain John, the Archbishop's third son. On the ordnance map is shown the ruins of Tullykelter Castle.

On the 1 May, 1615, James and Elizabeth Somerville proceeded to underlet Dromscobbe to Philomy M'Cabe for five years, and some land called Lestonier to Edmund Ballagh M'Caffry for one year. These two tenants "were meer Irish, born in Ireland, and by origin and race meer Irish," and James and Elizabeth had therefore broken the conditions under which they held ; and Dromscobbe and Letonier had become forfeited, "Regi nunc Car. forrisfact' devener'," and the King was now seized of them in fee in right of his Crown of Ireland. They had also demised for a term Tullycalter to Daniel Elliot, and he had not taken the oath of allegiance.

The above shows a Daniel Elliot (Ellot), a caulter (purchaser/accountant) for the estate of James and Elizabeth Hamilton Somerville, of the Monea Estate of Archbishop Malcolm Hamilton, Church of England (Ireland), give the position of Tullycalter and not taking the loyalty oath for the position.

So the Daniel Elliot family is Church of England/Ireland, Anglican/Episcopalian.

The above information goes beyond words saying; these are the sons of Robert Elliot (Clementis Hob), and they are brothers.

APPENDIX I.

THIS branch of the old Scottish border family of Elliot appears to have come over to Ulster at or shortly after the Plantation. According to old family tradition, the founder was a cadet of the house of Stobbs, County Roxburgh. We have several old family papers from which the pedigree is clearly traceable back to William Elliot; he married Margaret, sister of David Cairnes<sup>2</sup> of Londonderry. His son was also named William, and was designated "of Straghan," in the County Fermanagh, in 1689. He appears along with Thomas Elliot of Galoon and George Elliot of Tully, also in Fermanagh, in the list of Protestant gentry attainted by King James's Parliament. In the plantation papers we can only find record of two planters of the name of Elliot. These are Daniel Elliot, who obtained the lands of Tulla-

<sup>1</sup> The author regrets very much that he has not had the time or opportunity to make researches in the Record Office in Dublin or the Register House in Edinburgh, which might throw light upon the identity of the original founder of this branch of the Scottish family of Elliot. He hopes at some future time to investigate the subject more fully. The family tradition that the founder was a cadet of the family of Stobbs in the County of Roxburgh is of old standing. The Rev. John Graham, who enjoyed the acquaintance of the representatives of the Irish Elliots a hundred years ago, in a brief note on the family, in his Ireland Preserved, refers to both William Elliot, who was attainted in 1689, and Major William Cairnes, who died in 1789, as "cousins german" of Sir Gilbert (sic) Elliot, Lord Heathfield, the hero of the siege of Gibraltar in 1787. Allowing for a certain vagueness in the meaning of the term "cousin german," and even overlooking the fact that Lord Heathfield's Christian name was not Gilbert, but George Augustus, the fact remains that the family tradition that the Irish Elliots were a branch of the Elliots of Stobbs is of considerable antiquity. The tradition that the Irish Elliots and the Elliots of Stobbs were of the same stock has confirmation in the fact that the arms of the Irish Elliots, as recorded in the Ulster Office, are practically those of Stobbs, with an alteration of the tinctures as difference. Elliot of Stobbs in the Lyon Register, Edinburgh, bore "gules, on a bend engrailed or, a baton az" (see shield No. 13, Chapter X.). The several cadets of the house of Stobbs bear as follows:—Lord Heathfield, "Gules on bend arg., a baton az, with an augmentation in chief, commemorative of the siege of Gibraltar"; the Earls of Minto quarter "Gules, within a bordure vair, on a bend engrailed or, a baton azure"; Elliot of Fermanagh, "Argent, on a bend gules, a baton or." (Ulster Office).

coltlier and the precincts thereof, in the County Fermanagh, part of the extensive grant originally allotted to Sir Robert Hamilton<sup>1</sup>; and Sir John Elliot, Knight, Baron of Exchequor, who was allotted the small portion known as the Manor of Kilcronehan, County Cavan. We have no evidence to show whether a relationship existed between Sir John Elliot of Kilcronehan and Daniel of Tullacoltier, nor can we say positively whether the three Elliots in the list of attainders were the descendants of either. It seems probable, however, that they were great grandsons of Daniel Elliot of Tullacoltier, from the fact that some sixty-five years later than his time they held property not far removed from his, and that there does not appear to be record of any other Elliot among the planters in County Fermanagh.

Of the three attainted Elliots, we have further record only of William Elliot of Straghan, near Lisnaskea. In the list of attainders already referred to, he is described as a Lieutenant in the army. He took a prominent part in the defence of Ballyshannon against the forces of James II., and as a captain, fought under King William III. at the battle of the Boyne. He married his first cousin Mary, daughter of William Cairnes of Killyfaddy, and sister of the "Old Captain" William Cairnes (referred to on pp. 112, 113, 156). Of the issue of this marriage we have record only of the eldest son William Elliot of Cloneblagh, who married Elizabeth daughter of Hugh Montgomery of Lisduff, County Longford. (See Appendix II., and for their issue, p. 112 sqq.). Lieutenant William Elliot, who married Mary Cairnes, had two sisters, Mary, wife of her cousin Doctor Thomas Cairnes, and Lettice, wife of the Rev. Humphrey Thompson of Monaghan.

The early family burying place of the Elliots of Fermanagh was in the old churchyard of Augherlurcher.<sup>2</sup> Some tombstones recording the family were extant in 1825, but the author has not had the opportunity of ascertaining if any still remain.

From the likely sons of Daniel in the 1630 muster the names;
Gowan (Irish form of Gawin), William, Mungo (St Mungo of Glasgow), Robert, and Mark (likely St Mark).
Names;

Daniel (Andrew), William, Mungo (St Mungo), Robert, Gavin
and Mark.

Taking out the Church of England saintly names we have;
Andrew, William, Robert and Gavin.

For Robert Elliot of Armagh we have sons; Archibald, Robert and William, with likely grandsons of the same names.

So there is a total of 3 Roberts, 3 Williams, 2 Archibalds, 1 Andrew (Daniel), and 1 Gavin.

Robert and William are definitely the preferred names.

The venn diagram of the Andrew (Daniel) line compared to the Gilbert line share names William, Robert, Archibald (a Douglas family name) and Gavin. Where William and Robert seem preferred.

This pattern of naming is close to Anglo-Danish-border Scot, convention and not the Briton convention of naming.

So it is going to follow that Robert Elliot son of Daniel Elliot would name his first son Robert after him and his second son Daniel after his father.

Robert and Daniel Elliot would have been Episcopalian/Roylists. It should be noted that it is felt that Robert of Armagh did not survive the Irish Rebellion of 1642, but Daniel Elliot family did, because they used names which the Irish would use and sided with the Irish.

The Daniel Elliot family of Fermanagh, did not care like the Irish did not care for Cromwell, and they used saintly and Irish naming forms such as Daniel (been dropped by Elliots of Ulster for the name Andrew), Gowan (Irish for Gavin), Mungo (St Mungo of Glasgow), Mark (used as an Elwald/Ellot name before the reformation, then as Anglicans).

The sons of Robert of Daniel Elliot/Ellot are Robert Ellet/Elliot of the Great Island, Portsmouth, who was given land as which most indentures of the English Civil War about 1659/60, and a Rev Robert Jordan Episcopalian, and a good friend to an well know Royalist; Capt Francis Champernown. Likely indentured to Richard Cutt, brother of John Cutt first President of New Hampshire, both Joshua Moody, Puritans living at Boiling Rock Point north of Strawberry Bank, now both in Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

An Daniel Elliot of Boston, a likely King Chapel attender like his friend George Hollard which his away Philip English, who gave money to build and Episcopalian Church, and was a friend of Gabriel Bernon, who helped Daniel Jr settle in Oxford, on his Plantation after Salem End, Framingham because the both were French Huguenot merchants

HISTORY OF LIDDESDALE...by Robert Bruce Armstrong which records, and documents the history of the Armstrong and Elwald in Liddesdale.

It is not until the year 1376 that we can point to any person of the name of Armstrong as having any connection with Liddesdale, although it is possible they may have been resident there long before. The Alexandir Armystrand who is mentioned as residing at Mangerton at this period<sup>7</sup> was probably the Alexander who along with Geffry and David Armstrong, and other knights and squires, became surety for the Earl of Douglas in 1398,<sup>8</sup>—sufficient proof that there were in 1398 belonging to this surname persons of consideration residing on the border. It is impossible now to fix the date or even the century in which the Armstrongs first settled in Liddesdale, but that the settlement took place at a very early period seems probable. The cross at Millholm tends to show that they were people of consequence in the district at least as early as the middle of the fourteenth century.<sup>9</sup> Mangerton<sup>10</sup> was the residence of their chief, and the laird of Whithaugh<sup>11</sup> was the chieftain

In the late fourteenth century tax-list of Liddesdale a number of names of occupiers of lands occur such as Sturhes, Croyser, Fethyng, Loumane, Alani, Raufson, Broun, Gilson, Nobill, Stodhirde, Meryng, Nycson, Roberts de Lawis (L'ourse), and Alexandir Armystrand of Mangerton. His name with Geffry and David Armystrand appears amongst the "borowis" for the earl of Douglas in 1398. Of all the surnames noticed only three will be found in the list of 1541. My family THE ELWALD lived in Gorrenberry, Braidley, Hermitage, Catlie, around the Hermitage, of the location of a proposed wind farm.

The husband of The Clan Elliot chief get finances from supporting wind farms.

My family rode with a Martin Elliot of Braidley in the sixteenth century. Been working to try to get The Clan Elliot Society to move Braidley to it's proper locality.

Would someone with MI6 background have a known ledge of covert activity, and not allow the movement of Braidley to it's proper locality, so a wind farm can be built on Hermitage Castle Hill?

A COMPANY involving two major donors to the pro-Union Better Together campaign has been accused of trying to shortchange a Highlands community out of millions of pounds.

North British Wind Energy Ltd has been accused of trying to shortchange a Highland community over a 23-turbine wind farm

North British Wind Energy (NBW) part chair Christopher Wilkins

Stratherrick & Foyers Community Trust, on the southern shore of Loch Ness, is angry at North British Wind Energy Ltd (NBW) for offering to pay less than half the industry benchmark in "community benefit" compensation for a 23-turbine wind farm on the Corriegarth Estate.

Corriegarth is the family estate of former Barings Bank stockbroker Andrew Fraser, who was last week revealed as one of the largest donors to Better Together, after giving £200,000. Fraser first entered into an "option agreement and licence" with NBW in 2008.

NBW is chaired by another Better Together donor, Christopher Wilkins, a former soldier with links to MI6, who recently gave £10,000.

Both Fraser and Wilkins are also significant shareholders in NBW.

NBW is offering to pay the Community Trust £2000 per megawatt (MW) to compensate them for the 50MW wind farm, whose turbines will be 120m high. Two neighbouring SSE wind farms will pay the Trust £5000 per MW.

The aristocrats cashing in on Britain's wind farm subsidies

Growing numbers of the nobility are being tempted to build giant wind farms on their estates by the promise of tens of millions of pounds being offered green energy developers.

The Telegraph

They are among the nation's wealthiest aristocrats, whose families have protected the British landscape for centuries. Until now that is.

For increasing numbers of the nobility – among them dukes and even a cousin of the Queen – are being tempted by tens of millions of pounds offered by developers to build giant wind farms on their estates.

An investigation by The Sunday Telegraph reveals how generous subsidies – that are added to consumer energy bills – are encouraging hereditary landowners to build turbines up to 410ft tall on their land.

With controversy over onshore wind farms growing, the role of the landed establishment in fuelling the 'scramble for wind' will alarm opponents.

They claim wind farms are blighting the countryside while failing to deliver a reliable supply of electricity despite the cost.

Buck, I know other Dukes are gaining financial power by supporting the windfarms, but family, and historical Scottish antiquities and centuries of support though seemly let down sometimes of the Armstrong are higher on the list. Thank You Buck

Following Ancient Trails: Elks Make a Dangerous Comeback in Germany

European elks are using their impressive swimming skills to cross the Oder River from Poland into Germany in search of new territory. But the long-legged giants, which can weigh up to 800 kilograms, are finding their ancient trails broken by busy roads. A motorist killed one on a highway near Berlin this weekend.

Just as closely related to the Kerr as other Elliott.

The Armstrong Chronicles said the bear, wolf, and elk (moose) are of the same family, making the Elwald and the Armstrong brethren.

Over a 1,000 years, there could be a mutation of a marker between the bear, and the elk(moose).

So genetically, previously to surnames, I, share the same many great grandfather with today's Armstrong.

THE ARMSTRONG seem to accept the line, and are riding against a wind farm on Elwald land Hermitage Hill, and the Elliot Clan Society have not accepted the Elwald line.

Asking the Armstrong to accept that Elwald line is part of Armstrong Clan, with Clementis Hob; Clement Cozier's adopted nephew Robert Elwald.

Sincerely,

Mark Elliott
