

Dee, it has always bothered me where Braidley is on the Clan map. It is felt that the sons of a William of Lariston, and Martin a brother to a Robert, of the grayne of Martin, because not being the of land where in their raids with the Scot, and Douglas were hoping to establish a land base. These people were from near each other an worked their way towards Horseleyhill. To put Braidley where it is on the US Elliot Clan sight is felt to be a misrepresentation. It is felt that the map was supplied by Arthur Elliott author of The Elliots; The Story of a Border Clan 1986. In the 1974 ed the End Paper map was made by George Evan, which mis located Braidley, and the map draw in 1986 by JA Young; Borders Region Council, may have incorporated this error. It is deceptive if used in the field of Elliot research.

Dee,
Could you foreword to see what others may think.
